Chief Art Acevedo

June 14, 2007, city of Austin (Texas) has chosen Chief Art Acevedo (NLPOA California State President), a California Highway Patrol Deputy Chief, as its next police chief for City of Austin (Texas).

Chief Art Acevedo will be the first minority police chief for an agency that's under investigation by the U.S. Department of Justice for complaints of police using excessive force against minorities.

National Latino Peace Officers Association congratulates Chief Art Acevedo for being selected for the new police chief for City of Austin (Texas).
