

November 30, 2006 is National Meth Amphetamine Awareness Day.

It is our objective to educate as many people as possible about the dangers of methamphetamine. Officials from the Department of Justice, including U.S. Attorneys, Assistant U.S. Attorneys, and DEA Special Agents, will be hosting educational presentations around the country on “National Meth Awareness Day.”

The U.S. Department of Justice is also partnering with our state and local law enforcement colleagues, community partners, and state and local leaders in this effort.
